I used the 'Map' logo as a starting point for the sculptural installation.

This is then 'engraved' into the court yard area as a space that can also be used as a fire place

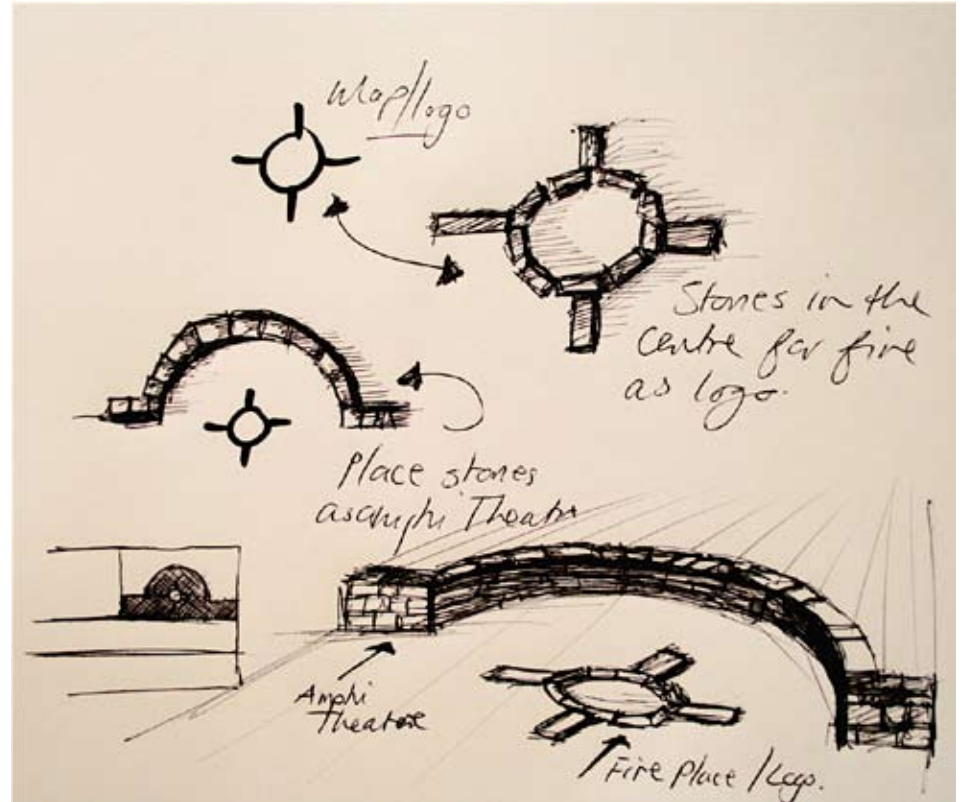

The rest of the stones found on site are placed to form a seating area for the 'fire' place but also to function as a amphitheatre around the fire for possible plays or movies against the opposite wall that function as a stage. This work is deeply influenced by the South African tradition of gathering around a fire as meeting point that is rooted in our culture.
